

ALTINBAŞ UNIVERSITY

Altınbaş University is a young and dynamic non-profit foundation university founded by the philanthropic Mehmet Altınbaş Education and Culture Foundation in 2008 as Istanbul Kemerburgaz University and changed to its current name in 2017. It has been established with the aim of taking its place among the leading universities in Türkiye and beyond with academic staff – mostly graduates of prestigious US or European Ph.D. programs – which is capable of and committed to undertake research and provide education at the level of international standards. The advanced technical infrastructure of the University supports a very modern positive teaching-learning environment. The university provides its students with the opportunity to become productive, investigative and intellectual individuals as well as global citizens, who are respectful of human rights and individual freedoms, with a sense of social responsibility and endowed with intercultural skills.

Altınbaş University is a supportive and inclusive learning community devoted to academic excellence, creative learning and innovative research. Currently, Altınbaş University currently provides various associate, bachelor, masters and doctoral degree programs in 9 faculties (Faculty of Engineering and Architecture, Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Pharmacy, Faculty of Dentistry, Faculty of Fine Arts and Design, Faculty of Economics, Administrative and Social Sciences, Faculty of Business Administration, Faculty of Law and Faculty of Applied Sciences), 1 graduate school and 1 vocational schools.

Istanbul is the largest city and economic center of Türkiye, and provides many historical, cultural, scientific, and sports opportunities. Altınbaş University has three urban campuses within the city of Istanbul, and each campus is dedicated to one major field (engineering, health, and social sciences). In addition to the campuses, the university has 1 affiliated hospital and 1 dental hospital in the heart of Istanbul. 1 student guest house and more than 60 student clubs serve the students.

Around 50% of the students come from abroad, and it is one of the most internationalized universities in Türkiye. As a university in a country (Türkiye) that is engaged in negotiations with the European Union for full membership, the university is committed to educating future Turkish EU experts and to contribute to the public debate on European integration and Türkiye-EU relations. At the present time, the dedication of Altınbaş to these issues is expressed in manifold dimensions. The university has stepped up efforts to encourage its staff to apply for EU-funded projects. Other international cooperations include ERASMUS+ and FARABI programs, double-degree program in Law with the University of Cologne (Germany) and many others. The university has links with more than 270 universities in 40 countries.

Altınbaş University has the largest health sciences campus among the universities in Türkiye and provides high-quality research in the fields of engineering, architecture, mathematics & natural sciences, health sciences and social sciences. Altınbaş University issues three scientific journals under the name "AURUM", which are Journal of Social Sciences, Journal of Engineering Systems and Architecture and Journal of Health Sciences.

Our mission is to be an entrepreneurial, innovative and prestigious university which the first choice of all by providing education on an international level, generating scientific knowledge with its qualified teaching staff, students and graduates.
